KARUNADU TECHNOLOGIES

Karunadu Technologies, renowned for its expertise in AI and ML, recently conducted an enriching workshop at Srinivas Institute of Technology (SIT), providing students and staff with a comprehensive exploration of these transformative technologies. The workshop seamlessly blended theoretical concepts with practical applications, offering a hands-on experience in navigating the intricacies of AI and ML. From fundamental principles to real-world applications, participants gained valuable insights into machine learning algorithms, data processing, and model training.

This interactive workshop, designed for both beginners and those with intermediate knowledge, not only equipped SIT students with practical skills but also showcased the relevance of AI and ML across diverse sectors. The collaborative learning environment encouraged active participation, fostering a deeper understanding of these cutting-edge technologies. Students had the opportunity to work on real-world projects, applying AI and ML techniques to solve complex problems, enhancing their readiness for the evolving job market.

For SIT staff, the workshop served as a platform to stay abreast of the latest developments in AI and ML, ensuring the institution remains at the forefront of technological education. The collaboration between Karunadu Technologies and SIT exemplifies a commitment to providing exposure to cutting-edge technologies, fostering a culture of innovation within the institution. As AI and ML continue to reshape industries, the knowledge gained from this workshop positions SIT as a hub for nurturing the next generation of technologically adept professionals, ready to meet the demands of the dynamic digital landscape.

INFOSYS SPRINGBOARD

Srinivas Institute of Technology has tie up with Infosys springboard from 2021 to 2023.

Under Infosys Springboard Certification program around 60 students successfully underwent training through online mode and students were able to complete the certification successfully. Infosys Springboard, a flagship initiative by Infosys, empowers individuals at Srinivas Institute of Technology (SIT) with a transformative Python Basics and Programming course. This comprehensive program, meticulously designed for both staff and students, instills a solid foundation in Python, catering to diverse skill levels. For staff, it serves as professional development, integrating practical applications to enhance efficiency. SIT students gain a competitive edge by aligning with industry demands, delving into Python's versatility. The adaptable curriculum, tailored to varying programming experience, ensures inclusivity and accessibility. This collaboration between Infosys Springboard and SIT exemplifies a forward-thinking education-industry partnership. By seamlessly integrating practical skills into academic learning, it prepares participants to navigate real-world challenges. As a result, graduates emerge not only with coding prowess but as adept architects of change in the dynamic digital landscape. This symbiotic approach stands as a model for innovation and collaboration in technology education.
